The Comet Picnic.

All roads seemed to lead to Inga Corner yesterday afternoon, where were congregated Cometites, Stonyites, Holbornites, and crowds from various other districts, to help celebrate Victoria Day. Buses and cars began to arrive early, and by 3 o'clock the biggest number ever at a Comet picnic, were on the grounds.

Ample provision had been made along the refreshment line, and the booth was well patronised.

The events were well contested, and the steer riding, cowboy relay race, bronch busting and the other novelty races proved very interesting. At football Stony beat Spruce Grove, and Holborn succumbed to Stony, at baseball. Names of the prize winners will be printed in next issue.

Old-timer Leaves.

One of Carver's enterprising farmers and an old-timer in the district in the person of Mr Benjamin Hornby, departed last week for his new home in British Columbia. (This gentleman left Saturday morning with a car of stock and effects for Prince George, near which place his 500-acre farm is located. This place was purchased several years ago, and two of Mr Hornby's sons have been working it. Regret is felt in the district at the departure of this estimable gentleman and his family, and their many friends will wish them success in their new home.

Stony Plain and District.

A very nice birthday party was given the beginning of the week by Mr and Mrs Jacob Soltrunn, at their place near Comer, in honor of their young daughter Lena, when a large party of this younger young lady's friends were present, and had a good time.

A select party of good friends helped Mr Joe Kuhle celebrate his 15th birthday anniversary on Saturday last, when a very happy time was had.

Among the City people who came out to the picnic were: M B McCall, J P Crowe, R P Husel, the Ford Man, and several others.

The Bachelors' Ball last evening was a thoroughly enjoyable affair, and was well patronised. The young men who managed this have much to be proud of.

The police are investigating the collision which occurred on the Baseline last Thursday evening, when an auto ran into a rig driven by young Mr Baron, who was accompanied by his sister, each of whom received injuries.

Two games of baseball were played here the beginning of the week, the one with the Holborn team proving very interesting, the score standing: 2 to 10 Stony Plain's dozen runs.

Another very good ball game was seen at the local grounds on Friday night.

The Canadian Constitution

Necessity, it has been said, is the mother of invention, and certainly the absolute necessity of Governments during and since the war period to find large revenues wherewith to meet heavy national expenditures and unprecedented interest charges led to the inauguration, if not invention, of new schemes and methods of taxation. During the war it was practically impossible to control expenditures, hence it was necessary to raise money by borrowings and through excessive taxation to cover such expenditures. This practice, then enforced upon Governments, has for too long a period been continued—Governments basing their revenue requirements upon their expenditures, instead of endeavoring to bring expenditures within the limits of their revenues.

More recently, however, attempts have been made to reduce expenditures. The Washington conference on armaments was a noteworthy attempt in that direction. In Great Britain remarkable economies have been recommended by the Geddes Commission, and steps are now being taken to put many of these into effect. In Canada, too, an earnest effort is being made to bring about reduction in national expenditures, instead of merely striving to devise new means of taxation and enlarged revenues. There are signs of a return to national sanity, because the road we were travelling was bound to lead to a disaster. Municipal governments are likewise beginning to learn from past bitter experiences, and reductions in civic budgets are the order of the day.

There is, however, one field in Canada which would appear to offer an opportunity for harvesting a valuable crop of national economies and savings in expenditures, both Federally and Provincially, that is being neglected. Undoubtedly, politicians are somewhat loath to tackle it as once the question is opened to close investigation and expert study there is no telling what acute differences of opinion may develop throughout the country, or what really troublesome questions may call for answer and a solution. It is a case of leaving well enough alone no matter how bad that "well enough" may be.

We refer to the very large question of the increasingly apparent need for a revision of Canada's constitution as it is laid down in black and white in the British North America Act. During more than half a century of unparallel change and progress throughout the world, there has been practically no amendment of any importance to the Canadian constitution. It still stands as it was written to meet the needs of 1867 and the future as it could be read by statesmen at that time.

The B.N.A. Act was the product of almost innumerable compromises, and unless these compromises had been effected at that time the Dominion would never have been brought into existence. But surely Canada has advanced sufficiently, and national sentiment developed to an extent, to warrant the hope that we have outgrown the need for many of the compromises effected to meet the local fears and jealousies of Provincial units and minorities in 1867.

With one of the heaviest per capita national debts in the world it is essential that Canada should enforce economies in administration and expenditure wherever it can be done without impairing the efficiency of the public services. And where it is possible to effect changes which will not only prove economical but add to efficiency in service and administration, surely it is the height of folly to neglect them merely because the path to reform may be strewn with difficulty.

After all no very great controversial questions need be involved in a consideration of quite a few subjects wherein there will be found to lie big opportunities for increased efficiency in public services at a very materially reduced cost to the country at large and relief to the overburdened taxpayer. All that is required is courage, straight business sense, and some of that same grim determination and unflinching patience which characterized Lloyd George in connection with the Irish negotiations and is again the outstanding feature of the International conference at Genoa.

There are anomalies, inconsistencies, and duplications in the British North America Act costing this country millions of dollars annually, which, if they existed in connection with any big industrial concern, would occupy the minds of the directors until they are removed and the problems which they present definitely solved.

Space available in this column will not admit of a discussion of all of these, but in next week's article attention will be devoted to a few of them as illustrative of what might be accomplished if the Leaders in Government at Ottawa and in each of the Provincial capitals would get together in a round table conference in a sincere effort to achieve such needed reforms.

How Colonel Saved Seemingly Hopeless Situation at Valcartier
"Someone has tampered with the pumps. We'll have no water supply, and four thousand men are arriving tomorrow!"

This was the message brought to headquarters at five o'clock in the afternoon of one of those strenuous days that marked the building of Valcartier Camp in August, 1914.

The situation seemed hopeless. There was no opportunity to get the stolen portion of the pumps under a delay of three days. Headquarters went to bed that night face to face with a water famine, and thousands of troops due to arrive in the next few hours.

When the camp awoke water was flowing freely from all the taps and outlets. Chug-chugging away, in the river, was a fine fire engine, the property of the city of Quebec.

Col. William McFain, one of the staff, had rushed to Quebec city, secured civic authority for the removal of the big fire-engine, and on a special train delivered it to Valcartier and connected it up to the water system while the camp slept.

Just another little reason why Canada was able to send overseas in record time a division of real fighters.

Toronto Woman Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I suffered with irregular periods, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains, so bad sometimes thought I would go crazy. I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I recommended my friends to use Lydia E. Population Possibilities
Only 2 1/2 People Per Square Mile in Canada
The United Kingdom has 394 people to the square mile. Canada has two and a half. The average for the Empire is a little less than six per square mile.

Outside of the United Kingdom, New Zealand shows the most dense population with 117 to the square mile. If Canada had even half the density of population which New Zealand has, it would give her 19,000,000, while Australia would have 16,000,000. The possibilities of increased population tend to show that eventually the centres of population and influence will shift from outside Great Britain to some of her overseas dominions.—From the Farmers' Sun.

Exceptional opportunities exist in Canada today for engaging in the agricultural or commercial activities of poultry raising and egg marketing. In this respect Canada faces a peculiar situation for whilst, at the present time she is exporting eggs to foreign countries at the rate of about six and a half million dollars annually, she is importing for domestic consumption nearly five and a half million dozen.

The opportunities lying in the poultry industry in Canada are self-evident from a survey of the facts. The export trade is developing to a larger extent each year as the popularity of the Canadian produce increases and the demand is greater. In the decade 1911-1921 export in eggs has grown from 92,164 dozen to 6,679,853 dozen. Despite the tremendous increase in production practically an equal amount has to be imported to fill domestic needs. Room exists for wide expansion in production.

MY CANADA

—BY—
ELINOR MARSDEN ELIOT

IV. Winnipeg, June 17th, 19—

This has been a busy week. Sunday morning we went to St. John's Cathedral, and John's, in spite of its impressive name, is but a tiny place, no larger than our smallest village churches. It is built of native stone, and is surrounded by a quaint old graveyard in which I was glad to wander for half an hour after the service.

On Monday I went sightseeing, with Mary as guide. She took me first to the City Hall. Architecturally it leaves much to be desired—it looks like a cross between a wedding-cake and a mosque, but I was interested in the pictures of the mayors, and I fell in love with the pretty little "Chancellor" Chamber, which would be simply perfect for private theatricals.

We then went to the roof of the Union Bank, Winnipeg's highest building. I understand that in New York and Chicago there are office buildings four times as high, but I am sure I do not wish to practise mountaineering in them—the Union Bank is quite high enough. But the view from the top was worth the dizzy feeling.

By this time it was noon, and with my luncheon I had another novel experience. I never heard of a "Dairy Lunch" at home—doubtless they can be found in the larger cities if one knows where to look for them—and to me it was an entirely new experience to act as my own waitress and newer still to hear my orders paraphrased beyond recognition, shouted through a dumb-waiter to an invisible cook. One goes into the lunch-room, takes a tray and the necessary dishes from a counter, together with whatever food is already cooked, and then picks out a table for one's self. I was so

A Stitch in Time

Quick action is the only hope when kidney disease appears.

There is a whole train of dreadfully painful and fatal ailments which soon follow any neglect to get the kidneys right. Among others are rheumatism, lumbago, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure.

In Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will find a treatment which is both quick and thorough.

Mr. C. E. Rayms, Lindale, Alta., writes:—

"I was a great sufferer from kidney disease and have been for more than a year. A friend of mine one day told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and acting upon his advice I tried them. After I had taken one box I felt better, so I continued until I had used five boxes. By this time I felt as well and strong as ever, and am glad to recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to anyone suffering as I did."

much interested in the orders that were being passed on to the cook that I could scarcely eat my luncheon. Mary translated, "Ham and eggs" means ham and eggs; "Pork and" pork and beans (an extraordinary popular dish, apparently); "Four poached on two," is two orders of poached eggs on toast. (Mary tells me that she once heard the last order given as "Adam and Eve on a raft," but I think that story was made up for my special benefit.) As I listened I had a vision of the staid head-waiter in the quiet hotel where we always stay when we go to London. I shall never be satisfied with a mere head-waiter again.

In the afternoon we took a train to the City Park. It is about five miles from Main Street. One goes that distance on Portage Avenue—another of the old trails—and then crosses the Assiniboine River on a fearfully seakick suspension bridge. The park, which is left as much as possible in its natural state, is really beautiful, although the trees are small and the grass is not like English grass. A home has been provided here for quite good collection of the native animals.

I saw several kinds of deer, wolves, foxes, buffaloes, badgers, beavers and one heartbroken old eagle. The animals are all fairly tame and I got some excellent photographs. I have been afraid to admit it to the Arnolds, but I was disappointed in the buffaloes—by the way, only the pedantic call them bisons here, I expected to see majestic creatures at least as large as elephants, and what I did see looked very much like the badly focussed picture that I took of some Highland cattle the first summer I had my camera. I went too close to the cattle, and as a result the heads and forequarters were about twice as big in the picture as they should have been.

And now for the most important thing that has yet found a place in my diary.

Each day since I reached Winnipeg have read the "Situations Vacant" column in the various papers, and on Monday I saw the very thing I had been watching for.

"WANTED: At once, a working companion. Comfortable home for the right party. $200 per month. Apply to Mrs. John Pliske, Elba, Manitoba."

I wrote a letter of application and went to talk to the mother-in-law with Mrs. Arnold. To my surprise and consternation she was horrified. "You are a young woman in a position to be the same thing as a general servant in England," she said when the first question was over. "The work and the surroundings will not be what you expect, and you will meet with disappointment in almost every way. What will your mother say to me if I maintenance so ridiculous a project?"

"Mother knew what my plans were before I left home," I answered. "But your mother does not know to what the realising of those plans would lead. In the first place, you would lose caste." "I thought that caste was an unknown quantity in Canada," I interrupted, rather rudely. I fear. At any rate, I came here for experience, and I am certain that I shall never learn to farm while I stay in Winnipeg as your guest."

Mrs. Arnold laughed. "My dear Elinor," she went on, "Canada cannot compare with India in the matter of caste, nor even with England; but I think you will find that wherever there is poverty and wealth, employer and employed, there will be caste also."

"As to experience—well, you will probably get more than you bargain for. By the time you have done the washing, scrubbed the floors, cooked the dinner in a red-hot kitchen full of flies, and milked twelve cows, you may feel like going into the subject of scientific farming, but I doubt it."

"Of course there is just a chance that you may find a place that will suit you, but you are taking a big risk. Promise me that you will not post your application until you have consulted Mr. Arnold."

I promised. But what followed could scarcely be called a consultation, for Mr. Arnold only laughed at me. "I hate to be laughed at, so, just the least bit annoyed, I started my letter on its way. Yesterday I received Mrs. Pliske's reply, in which she asked me to leave for Elba at once. As soon as I had read it I went to Mr. Arnold, and, fully convinced now that the matter was a joke, he gave me a fatherly little lecture along the same lines as that delivered by Mrs. Arnold."

However, when Elinor Eliot makes up her mind it is made up to stay, and the only concession I would make was to agree to Mrs. Arnold's suggestion that Mary should go with me to Elba and stay with me until I was met by my employer. The word "employer" makes me feel as if I were a lady's maid, but the deed is done and "England exists etc." To be quite honest, I am awfully nervous.

The Arnolds have been so good to me and have made my visit with them so pleasant that it seems ungrateful to leave them in this way, although they think it unwise of me to go to Elba, they have done everything they could to help me in my preparations, quite as if I were acting in accordance with their advice. It is such a pleasure to meet people who do not look upon a contrary opinion as an insult!

And of one thing I am sure. If my venture fails and I return to them, they will meet me with open arms and closed lips.

Watch Your Brain

Take care of your brain. It is the most wonderful part of your body, and yet you take more care of every other organ. You exercise your limbs. You develop your muscles. You worry about your intestines. But you seldom bother about your brain. For example, you allow poisonous thoughts to enter it, as if the brain could thrive on poison. You would die rather than swallow a pint of cholera germs, but you permit deadly thoughts to injure the beautiful machinery of your brain. Keep your brain as clean as your body.—London Sunday Express.

Now She Doesn't Need The Doctor

WHY JOHN HAMILL PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

When He Found Them His Wife Found Relief. That's why he Tells Sufferers to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Macleod, Sask.—(Special)—Mr. John Hamill, a well known and highly respected resident here, is a firm believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills. "I speak on behalf of my wife," Mr. Hamill says, when asked the reason why. "She has been ailing for years. I had doctors attending her but she didn't seem to get any better."

"At last I found Dodd's Kidney Pills and my wife found relief. She kept taking them from time to time. Now she doesn't need the doctor." "Also since childhood Mrs. Hamill has been a sufferer from constipation. She found relief from that in Dodd's Kidney Pills. Nine-tenths of the ills that dog the pathway of suffering women come from diseased kidneys. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong, healthy kidneys."

"Fingerprints" of a Cow's Nose

New Method of Identification of the Bovine Family

According to a plan instituted in Minneapolis lately, more than 2,000 prints of cow's nose have been filed. William B. Peterson, superintendent of the official testing-bureau of that state, says nose prints are as infallible as fingerprints, and that every pedigreed cow should be so registered.

The chairman of the International Association of Identification and that of the Detective, said that the plan is receiving such favorable support in Minnesota that it will become national.

"I have gone into the matter and I find that a cow's nose never changes," he said. "It is the same as with fingerprints. So many purchases have been swindled by substitution of low grade stock for pure blooded, that the wise purchaser hereafter will look for a noseprint identification."

Could Hardly Move A Muscle For Ten Days

Winnipeg Man Was In Misery Day And Night From Rheumatism Before He Began Taking Tanlac. Hasn't A Twinge Left.

"When I started taking Tanlac I was almost down and out, but now I'm strong enough to do any kind of work," said Joseph A. Hughes, 1618 Magnus Ave., Winnipeg.

"Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism and for ten days I could hardly move, much less get out of bed. When I got up I was so weak and in such pain I just could hobble around. My back hurt continually and my arms and feet ached all the time. I had headaches so bad I could hardly see, could get but little sleep and was in misery day and night."

"But today I am well and strong and it's all due to Tanlac. I haven't an ache or pain in my body, feel fine all the time and have picked up several pounds in weight. I prize Tanlac above all other medicines."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

National Parks Value

The national parks in Canada last year brought $18,000,000 into Canada through tourists, according to an estimate given by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, given in the Dominion House of Commons recently.

Miller's Worm-Powders not only make the infantile system untenantable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other internal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

The eating of mauterkraut tends to the prolongation of human life, according to some medical scientists.

Worms feed upon the vitality of children and endanger their lives. A simple and effective remedy is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food. A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for infants and children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this: It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

Select The Hague As Meeting Place To Discuss Russian Question

Genoa.—The Hague has been definitely selected as the meeting place for the experts who will further examine the Russian problem. Arrangements for the Hague conference in June were practically complete with the acceptance by the Russians of the proposals submitted to them, which have been amended so as to provide that a truce between the various powers will continue for a maximum of eight months.

The process verbal relating to the Lloyd George plan for dual commissions to meet at The Hague, which was presented to the Russians was adopted with an annex. With the amendments carried by the sub-commission, it will be sent to the Washington Government probably with a letter from the secretary of the Genoa conference.

Clause 6 of the annex to the process verbal, which refers to the truce or preliminary pact of non-aggression, was amended in such a manner as to make it clear that the truce, as well as applying to the Russian Government proper, will apply also to the eight republics allied with Russia. This would bring in the Far Eastern Republic, with which Japan has been vainly trying to conclude a general treaty.

The Japanese delegation accepted this amendment with the understanding that it must be ratified by the Japanese Government.

A second important amendment to the document provides that the truce will continue to operate for a period of four months after adjournment of the Hague meeting. As it had been previously understood that The Hague conference would last about four months, this change is interpreted as indicating a probable European and Atlantic truce of about eight months. This extension is also considered a victory for Mr. Lloyd George because it provides more time for the consummation of the permanent non-aggression pact into which he hopes the truce will be merged.

League Will Consider Mandate for Palestine

Meeting to be Held Not Later than July 15

Geneva.—The Council of the League of Nations decided to hold a special meeting not later than July 15 to consider the question of approving the British mandate for Palestine. Lord Balfour in a speech before the council, said Great Britain was greatly disappointed that the present session had failed to register the League's consent to the terms of the mandate, which the allied powers had long ago agreed upon. Lord Balfour pointed out to the council members that their refusal to consider the mandate did not mean that the allied policy regarding mandates was endangered. The council could not change the decision of the allies on the mandate he reminded the members.

Expect Reduced Total Acreage in Wheat

Saskatchewan Will Suffer Most According to Weekly Crop Report

Winnipeg.—From present indications we anticipate a somewhat reduced total acreage in wheat this year, stated the weekly crop report of the Grain Trade News issued here.

"While Saskatchewan will perhaps suffer from an acreage reduction of from 8 to 12 per cent, Alberta and Manitoba may both be expected to have made a gain of from five to 10 per cent," the report continues. If last year's figures of wheat acreage estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are taken then the acreage for the two years might compare somewhat as follows in round figures: Manitoba—1921, 3,590,000; probable 1922, 3,750,000. Saskatchewan—1921, 13,500,000; probable 1922, 12,000,000. Alberta—1921, 5,120,000; probable 1922, 5,500,000. Total—1921, 22,210,000; probable 1922, total, 25,000,000.

Sir William was sent out by Lord Northcliffe as a result of what the latter learned of Canada during his tour last year.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK, HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night?

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we recommend

MILBURN'S

HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Beanson, Loganville, N.S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years, I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me."

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep. I would take smothering spells and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is.

A Monster Memorial

To Inscribe Names of Missing Canadians on Vimy Ridge Monument

Toronto.—Major-Gen. S. C. Newburn, Hamilton, former Minister of Militia, addressed delegates to the joint conference of the Canadian and Ontario Dental Associations here at luncheon. He reviewed the work of the Canadian Army Dental Corps from 1914 throughout the war and praised the care and treatment they gave the Canadian soldiers. Speaking as chairman of the War Graves Commission, General Newburn said that the names of 15,000 missing Canadian soldiers would be inscribed in bronze on the memorial to be erected at Vimy Ridge, the base of which monument would cover an acre of ground.

The monster memorial, General Newburn said, would probably be visible for a distance of 15 to 20 miles. It was designed by W. S. Allward, the Toronto sculptor. The site had not been fixed up yet the General said.

Hon. T. A. Crerar Favors Placing Settlers Along National Railways

Ottawa.—Discussion of railway settlements in the House brought from Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressive, an important declaration of his policy on the national roads. He advocated the closing down of part of the trans-continental lines running across the wilderness between Eastern and Western Canada. He urged a revaluation of the entire system on a replacement basis and its unification. He favored and suggested regional districts. He took the ground that, in encouraging immigration, the Government should take steps to see that the new settlers were placed along the national lines. It was too, Mr. Crerar argued, a sound principle that the fiscal policy of the country should be so drafted as to stimulate production from the farm, the forest and the mine and railway traffic would thereby be encouraged.

"If the National railways are turned over to private ownership at any price which private ownership would pay, the country would forever lose their potential value, but would not escape the liabilities involved," Mr. Crerar declared.

Mr. Crerar's speech came at the close of an afternoon's discussion on the railway estimates, a discussion which would be continued.

Earlier, Hon. Walter Mitchell, Liberal member for St. Antoine and formerly one of Sir Lomer Gouin's lieutenants in the Provincial Government of Quebec, had defended private ownership of railways. Mr. Mitchell went further; he expressed opposition to the principle of public ownership and operation of all public utilities.

"I have come to the conclusion on general principle," Mr. Mitchell asserted, "that the public pay more under public ownership than they benefit from lower charges."

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the opposition, charged in reply that Mr. Mitchell's remarks were in the national lines had not been constructed as commercial propositions, no private company could make them pay.

Casgrain Says Canal Would Increase Rates

Ocean Vessels Would Not Compete With Low Charges

Ottawa.—Resuming his speech on the St. Lawrence ship canal in the Senate, Senator Casgrain declared that its construction instead of cheapening rates would increase them. On May 6 the rate on wheat from Port Arthur to Montreal including all charges, was less than 7 cents per bushel, while the average rate for bushel from 1910 to 1915 from Port Arthur to Liverpool, including all charges was 10.75 cents. No ocean vessel would ever enter the great lakes and compete with that port.

A ten-thousand-ton tramp steamer costs $300 per day to operate, and it would take fifty days for a return voyage from Liverpool to Duluth, or a total cost of $45,000. Such a ship would carry only two hundred thousand bushels of grain at 11 cents per bushel, which would mean a net loss of $18,000 dollars. Lake carriers could handle five hundred thousand bushels of grain on an average. They could come down with ore and grain to the lower lakes and get a complete cargo of coal back. They could make the return voyage in ten days with a revenue of $11,000.

Less Show Horses in Fire

Oakville, Ont.—Twenty-eight or thirty show horses, hunters, belonging to H. C. Cox and Sir Adam Beck, were burned to death when the arena in which Hugh Wilson trains the horses was burned to the ground. The arena probably cost $25,000.

Unemployment in B.C. Decreasing

Victoria, B.C.—Unemployment throughout British Columbia has decreased so rapidly that in some parts of the province it has practically disappeared altogether.

Provincial employment officers in their reports to the Department of Labor, state they are now placing men much more freely than before. Improved weather conditions are given as partly the cause.

Chinese Delegation Leaves Tokio

Tokio.—The entire staff of the Chinese delegation here left Tokio without notifying the Foreign Office, declaring that their departure was due to the failure of Peking to supply funds for Chinese students here and the refusal of Japanese banks to make further advances on the ground of lack of security.

Inoculate for Legumes.

It pays to inoculate the various kinds of legume seeds. Cultures may be obtained at 25c each.

At the Clarendon School of Agriculture cultures for the inoculating of the different kinds of legumes may be obtained by applying to the Principal. It is a well established fact that legumes require certain kinds of bacteria to produce the most vigorous growth of stems, leaves and seed. In order to secure the necessary kind of bacteria in the soil in which a particular kind of legume is to be grown the inoculation of the seed with the pure culture is recommended. From the first of April until the end of June these cultures are prepared for the inoculation of alfalfa, field or garden peas, alfalfa, white sweet clover, white Dutch clover, red clover and beans. Complete instructions for inoculating legume seed are supplied with the cultures. A charge of 25c is made for each bottle, which contains sufficient bacteria to inoculate sixty pounds of seed. All orders accompanied by postal orders should be directed to the Principal of the School of Agriculture, Clarendon, Alberta.

Up-to-Date Farming.

One busy establishment this spring was the Wolf Bros. ranch at Glory Hills. May the 4th seen them seedling 150 acres of wheat. This ground had been well prepared last fall, and just needed a little working previous to the seeding operations. This wheat is now well up, and looks fine. They finished this week seeding the balance of this season's crop area with oats and barley.

These enterprising farmers have turned off, within the past few weeks, about a carload of well-finished heaves, as well as a large number of hogs. This latter seems to be their specialty; and that they believe in hogs is shown by the fact that have at present 125 of these, of all ages; with a few good brood sows yet to come in.
